What we provide

Roadmaps

We work with companies, experts and other learners to create roadmaps for learning skills.
Online learning can be confusing. We make it easy to know what to learn.

Resource Curation

There are more than enough resources online to learn any skill, but they are disorganized.
Our curation recommends you the best resources to learn any topic.

Mentorship

Online learning can feel lonely and confusing. But fret not!
RoadMaple's mentorship program pairs youths who are learning new skills with industry professionals

Our mission is to make online learning painless and efficient.

About Us

We are a team of 3 co-founders. For the last few years, we've self-learned many skills online, ranging from web development, finance to psychology. We launched this startup to tackle the problems we ourselves faced in today's online learning landscape.

Leveraging on our domain knowledge in online learning and diverse abilities within our team, we aim to make RoadMaple the best way to find out how to learn anything online.
