Support the Whole Learner With BASE Education

Did you know that students who receive SEL instruction perform better academically than their peers? Supporting the development of these skills can help increase engagement, build connections, and remedy behavioral challenges. In every BASE Education course, students are given the opportunity to define and reflect on their values, knowledge, and behavior as aligned to the topic being explored, learn coping strategies, and set plans in place for forward-thinking using a strengths-based approach.

Nonacademic Course Design

Minimal text, calming design, and vivid imagery tap into the emotional center of the brain.

Flexibility & Built-In Tools

Courses are offered in more than 50 languages, with text-to-speech, vocabulary tools, and educator guides.

Parent/Guardian Portal

Companion courses provide parents, families, and caregivers language and insights to connect with their student.

Progress Monitoring

Course progress and student responses are captured, including potentially harmful Firewords™, to inform intervention.
